DRIVES WITH HIS TOES.
dering where the driver would sit he seized the reins in his toes and started off at a good round pace.

A reporter for "The Sunday World" was with him, and he will tell shout the strange ride to-morrow. The freak did not run into any other carriage and he turned the corners as successfully as the best coachman on Fifth avenue could turn them. It will be interesting to know how skilful one can become with the unused toes if he loses his arms.

There was a strange scene on an up-own street the other day, when the last new freak in town went to take a drive.

He had no arms, and when his friends had seated themselves and were won-
